

COMPUTER

L-2

CLASS-V

Q4. What is hard disk?

Ans Hard disk is the main storage device of a computer. It is used present inside the CPU. It can store a large amount of data.

Q5. Differentiate between system software and application software.

Ans System Software:- System Software is used for operating computer hardware. It is installed on the computer when operating system is installed.

Application Software:- is used by user to perform specific task. Application software is installed according to user's requirements.